

Coping with Divorce

A visual story

My parents are getting a divorce.

Divorce means they are no longer married to each other.

Divorce is not my fault.

Now they live in different places. Sometimes
I travel in between.

Change is hard.

I can ask my parents questions.
They will try to answer them.

Sometimes I feel strong emotions like angry, sad, worried and confused. It is ok to feel all of these emotions.

When I am feeling strong emotions, it can be helpful to use coping strategies like coloring, spending time with friends, or listening to music.

It can also be helpful to talk to a trusted adult or a counselor about how I am feeling.

Even though my parents are no longer together, it is important to remember that they still love me.